Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-205 Kellogg Building. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29,-Names of Federal taxpayers receiving refunds of $500 or more on Federal taxes illegally collected have been sent to Congress by the Treasury Department. In the Eastern District of Missouri, including St. Louis and 54 counties, there were 76 such refunds totaling $1,290,824. The estate of Paul Brown of St. Louis received the largest refund, $834,271. The other 75 refunds totaled $456.553.

Most of the refunds were on income taxes, although the Brown refund was on estate taxes, due to an over-assessment which did not allow due credits for payment of the State inheritance tax, for charitable donations, and over-valuation of certain stocks.

The other estate taxes refunds were to the Benjamin H. Johnson estate, St. Louis, $3536; estate of John T. Milliken, St. Louis, $22,806, and the estate of Benjamin Bush,

The Caress kidnaping preceded a fight in Long Beach between officers and three men thought to take them to one of the gambling ships. One policeman was wounded. Ralph Sheldon, former Chicago gangster, is being held on charges of assault with intent to commit murder. Checks given by Caress, allegedly for ransom, were found in the automobile of the alleged gangsters after the fight.

Police Patrol the Docks.
Police last night patrolled the docks from which boats depart for the Johanna Smith, but no cus tomers appeared and no arrests were made. The Rose Isle, in the meantime, did a rushing business. Fitts said as soon as the Johanna Smith situation had been cleared up he would begin a campaign against the Rose Isle.

PRIEST INJURES TWO DURING GENERAL FIGHT IN CHURCH

Strikes Woman and Man With Crucifix When Discussion of His Retention Is Renewed.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Dec. 29.-The long controversy among members of the congregation over the Rev. Nicholius Kaimakan, pastor of the Russian Orthodox Church reached a climax yesterday when the priest, standing at the altar, struck a man and a woman with a large crucifix during a free-for-all

Three hundred members of the congregation, equally divided for and against Father Kalmakan, were in the midst of another discussion over his retention after the service, when shaking of fists began and then a woman ran up to the altar and attempted to halt Father Kaimakan's speech. Apparently mis-taking her intentions, the priest tore the crucifix, hanging from his neck by a chain, and struck the woman on the head. When Peter Honchuk, 32 years old, ran to defend the woman, he was struck on the head with the eross and his scalp was cut in two places. Then the two factions began mixing it up and were over-flowing into the street when police arrived and broke up the fight.

Part of the jungle was ablaze and the tangled undergrowth was clouded with powder smoke, hin-dering the advance of the troops in the first major engagement since the marauders became active.

The rattle of machine guine echoed through the densely forested country and there were heavy casualties on both sides. The rebels, maneuvered into a corner found themselves faced with the alternative of fighting to the las ditch or breaking into a rout. The raiding rebels, estimated more than a thousand, have loo:

ed villages and have killed a nur ber of police. The chief secretary of the Burns Government, in a telegram to all Deputy Commissioners in the province, accuses the rebels of murder looting and destruction.

"The facts of the Tharawaddy telegram: "The rebels come from villages southeast of Tharawaddy and northeast of Insein. The rising was clearly organized in advance and started without any attempt to present grievances. The rebels committed brutal outrages, murdering Government officials, European and Burmese, private persons without distinction of race or sta-tion, looting and destroying property and have shown themselves out laws deserving of no sympathy. They can plead no excuse either on political or economic grounds.

"The police have already achieved considerable success and the situation is improving daily. The Government intends to continue operations until the rebellion has been put down and law and order completely restored. Persons guilty of murder and other outrages will be punished."

At least two American mi aries are in the Tharawaddy district. One of them is the Rev. J. T. Latta of Miltonsburg, O., who is at a mission in Thonze. The other is Miss G. R. Anderson, whose home address is not available. She is in charge of the American Baptist mission school at Tharawaddy, three miles from Thonze.

Cancer Researcher Finds What Seems to Be Artificial Life

Dr. Crile of Cleveland Tells of Experiments in Breaking Up Cells of Brain-Matter and Reuniting Them Through Salts.

of the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 29.—The gland. artificially created life cell of Dr. George W. Crile is an attempt to penetrate the mystery of cancer.

Advancement of Science today. He has tried his experiment on brain, body and cancer cells, but the brain cell alone thus far has shown the qualities necessary for the rejuvenation. When cancer cells were used different effect was found, one whose significance has not been determined, for Crile said this is a preliminary report. "The research," he said, "was undertaken for the purpose of discovering some physical principle which might account for the conversion of normal cells into cancer cells, this is, into cells the energy of which is used only for growth. Re-Formation of Cell.

This wild growth is characterisic of all cancer.

Crile said he went to work on the principal that the fertilized eggs of animals contain elements that electrically are both positive and negative. He concluded that if the substances forming a living cell were mixed properly in an electrical solution, called an electrolyte, these substances would organize themselves into a "unit which would present a cell-like form." In other words, something lifelike might result without interven tion of the usual union of male and He separated brain cells into their constituent fats, proteins and ash. He found that only fresh rains retained the power to reunite, but that by preserving the fats in ether he could wait perhaps month after death and still get When ready the three brain subtances were mixed in distilled waer containing some salts, a laboraory-made substitute for the water lements in which the brain cells ormally live. The salts produced ne electrical effect.

Vital Activities Shown.

In this water the scattered brain natter reunited into micros objects having the shape of cells a nucleus or center, and hairlike

They grew like living things metimes, said Crile, they did this by putting out buds and sometime by dividing, each artificial cell thus becoming two, just as in nature's method of growth.

They consumed oxygen and they gave off carbon dioxide as do other reathing things.

They showed the power of rapid novement, so that sometimes was difficult to keep them under the field of the microscope. They took "vital stains" which is a method of using dyes to make tiny objects visible.

"This experiment," said Crile discloses clearly that the brain lipoid is unique in being the pos of a structure that has the power or organizing the protein of any organ. By feeding, these cells were kept live and active for two and onehalf months. But cells from other organs of animals gave "only feeble power of

The artificial recreation did not work on all brains. It failed on dogs which died of distemper, and partly failed on rabbits that died of Ultra-violet radiation killed the rejuvenation power and Crile says: "It would seem that the lethal effect of radiation must be exerted on the lipoid (fat) elements of cancer cells. "The lipoids and proteins extracted from a cancer when mixed with a solution of the ash of the same cancer did not produce cells but a bizarre structure characterized by the appearance of many fatty droplets."

Photography Without Light.

Photography by something that is not light was exhibited by Austin H. Clark of the Smithsonian Institution of Washington. Butterfly wings-one of them from a creature dead 50 yearstook their own pictures upon thotographic plates in total darkness. They also recorded themselves fairly well upon a smooth silver

Glass between the wing and the photographic plate prevented any picture, showing said Clark that the emanation is not light. Quartz likewise prevented photography, ndicating that invisible ultra-vio let radiation is not the source.

Through a sheet of cellophane however, the wings photographed themselves, suggesting that gas emanating from the wings makes the image.

The dim tracing on silver is taken as evidence that sulphur gas may be the cause. Whatever it is, the radiation apparently comes from the pigments composing the brilliant colors. Some physicists think that radioactivity may be in-

"St. Louis has a long way better-than-average climate," says the booklet. "It has no deadly monotonies; no long continued spells of exhausting heat or bitter cold; no wrestling with 10-foot snowdrifts; no dreary weeks on end of leaden skies or drizzling rain. This is a 'sunshine city.'

"Government records show St. Louis' percentage of sunshiny days is 63 per cent, as compared with 53 per cent in Chicago, 59 per cent in New York, and 58 per cent in San Francisco. The average annual temperature is 56.3 degrees. The average for spring is 56.6 degrees; summer, 77.3; autumn, 58.2, and winter, 34. A good yearround climate if there ever was

NVESTMENT COMPANY FILES IN VOLUNTARY BANKRUPTCY

A voluntary petition in bank-ruptcy was filed in Federal Court today by the Middle States Bond & Investment Co., with offices in the Paul Brown Building. The com-Advantages of Climate Told in pany, according to the petition, has liabilities of $18,159 and assets of $82,036, but many of the assets are not liquid. Among the assets are listed $55,000 in stocks and negotiable bonds, $12,120 due on open accounts and $12,000 real estate.

Attached to the petition was a resolution of the board of directors asserting: "Because of the financial depression of the com-pany, the assets have become greatly lessened in market value to such an extent that the company Managers Bureau, the Advertising Club and the Kiwanis Club at Hohas become insolvent."

Mad Dog Slain After Long Fight. Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—For two hours yesterday five policemen be-sieged a Jersey City garage, fighting with gunfire and tear gas bombs from atop automobiles before they brought down their quarry, a giant police dog. The dog had taken refuge in the garage after blting three persons. Police were then called and after firing at the dog, who was skulking about in the garage, for more than an hour, sent for tear gas bombs. These proved uneffective, and fircontinued until the dog fell dead, shot eight times.

rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a homemade medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germladen phlegm. Second, it soothes away the infiammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Valuable State and Historical Records Burned at Bismarck - Loss in Excess of $1,000,000.

BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 29 .-Many valuable State and historical documents were destroyed in a fire which burned the State Capitol yesterday.

Once the pride of the Dakotas, the four-story brick structure, which dated from the pioneer territorial days of nearly half a century ago, was burned almost on the eve of the convening of the Legislature which was to have considered a proposal for a new building. Defective wiring is thought to have been the cause.

With most of its records de-stroyed State business was thrown into confusion. Officials endeav-ored to arrange temporary offices

Estimates of the loss to the State ran upward from $1,000,000. The building itself was insured for $430,000 and its contents for $298 .-000. However, officials said it would cost at light $1,000,00 to replace only such documents as could

Ten members of the English Parliament and James Bryce, later British Ambassador to the United states, represented England, and Germany sent a delegation of 30. A Chancellor Bismarck, after whom his city was named.

For five years the building was the ruling house of the territory. Dissension led to a split and in 1889 the States of North and South Dakota were formed with their respective capitals as Bismarck and Various additions were made to the original Statehouse here, but numerous efforts to get a new structure always failed.

ATTEMPTED PRISON BREAK PUT DOWN WITHOUT BLOODSHED

-A combinned force of guards, city police and firemen forced 12 desperate criminals, who had gained control of their cell block in an attempt to escape from the Indiana State prison today, to surrender hout bloodshed.

The 12 men, most of them bank robbers, or murderers, overpowered their guard, Guy Burklow, but not

The convicts barricaded the doors and prevented prison guards from entering, but when city police set up machine guns outside of the door of the cell block and armed firemen augmented the guards on the walls, the men surrendered.

The men were released from their cells with a key which prison officers said was fashioned from a spoon by the leader of the plet, Joseph Burns, serving a term for participating in the Culver (Ind.) bank robbery of 1925.

Some CATTLE, SHEEP AND HOGS ARE Untit FOR FOOD!

Look for the above Government circle stamped in purple on all primal cuts meat, and for the phrase U. S. Inspected and Passed by Department of Agriculture" on all packages of

HE November 7 Bulletin of the St. Louis Medical Society contains a report by the Executive Secretary, that says:

"The Government has taken a very thorough method to prevent diseased meat from reaching the consumer. Figures supplied by the Bureau of Animal Industry show that for the fiscal year ending June 1930, 1,750,855 cattle, calves, sheep, and hogs were slaughtered in St. Louis plants under Government Inspection. Of these 3,862 carcasses were condemned. 25,974 parts of carcasses were condemned and in addition 79,210 pounds of meat and food products condemned for food purposes after being subjected to inspection for being improperly handled, soured in curing or held too long.

"For the calendar year just passed, 521,604 cattle, swine, etc., were killed for local consumption in plants without Government inspection. If the same percentage of condemnations is applied to these uninspection. If the same percentage of condemnations is applied to these uninspected plants there should have been condemned approximately 1,150 carcasses, 7,735 parts, and 23,597 pounds of meat and food products in process. Is it not reasonable to assume that in view of not being subjected to post mortem inspection these 1,150 carcasses, 7,735 parts and almost 12 tons of food products were sold to the local consuming public which and almost 12 tons of food products were sold to the local consuming public which under Government inspection would have been condemned as diseased and unfit inedible products?"

U. S. Government Meat Inspection has stood the test of 25 years. It is efficient and strict. In the Greater St. Louis district, there are 139 Government Inspectors -trained experts. Medical men are astounded at the knowledge and perception of these hard-working, conscientious inspectors, who daily safeguard the health of the public.

All cattle, hogs and sheep which come to a U. S. Government Inspected packing plant are given both an ante-mortem (while alive) and a post-mortem (after death) inspection. Most of the animals are healthy and normal, and pass inspection. But some are not-and these should not and are not used for meat or meat products for human consumption!

Only meat that comes from healthy animals and that is clean, wholesome and edible in every way can pass the rigid Government examination. Surely that is the only kind of meat you want brought into your home.

In Greater St. Louis, about half of all the meat and meat products consumed is U. S. Government Inspected. You can tell it by the little purple stamp (see illustration), which is marked in harmless coloring on all primal cuts of meat; and by the phrase "U. S. Inspected and Passed by Department of Agriculture," on all packages of meat products, such as hams, bacon, sausage, lard, etc. Look for these marks—they are your protection! Ask YOUR butcher to show them to you.

Just What Recognition Means

This international law term implies no approval of another nation's form of government, economic philosophy or religion; it relinquishes no claim, but simply "keeps open the avenues of discussion"; in our attitude toward Russia and South American countries we have departed from the traditional principle enunciated by Washington and Jefferson in recognizing revolutionary France.

From an Address by John Bassett Moore Before the New York City Bar Association.

YEAR ago the American people were suddenly reminded of the fact that for a long while they had had no diplo-matic relations with Russia. The immediate occasion of the jolt was the tender by our Government to the Soviet Government, through a third party, of advice peacefully to settle a controversy with China. We entered into an international ment, commonly called the Kellogg pact, to which the Soviet Government, at the solicitation of one of our co-signers, had, without full knowledge and consent, been permitted to adhere. By this act we necessarily recognized the Soviet Government for, by the hornbooks-the very primers of the kindergartens-of international la and diplomacy, recognition may be implied as well as expressed, and one of the stock examples of implied recognition is the entrance into conversational relations.

But, as we had refused to establish diplomatic relations with our co-contractant, we offered our peaceful advice through third party. The response we got was such as even peace-loving peoples do not relish. It breathed, indeed, a sense of resentment that we should presume to offer advice, through a third party, to a Government to which we refused to speak directly.

We have lately been startled by an impulsive and heated outburst, on the part of certain of our own officials, over the importation into this country by some of our steel manufacturers of a cargo of Russian manganese, and a short sale by the Russian Government of some wheat on the Chicago grain exchange. It was hastily that the manganese was mined or delivered by convict labor and that the wheat was "dumped" on the exchange to depress the An investigation promptly established the fact that the outcry was not justified; but language had been used and declarations had been made which necessarily raised the question whether our foreign relations were to be conducted constitutionally by the President and his legal agent, the Sec retary of State, or chaotically by the subordinates or heads of other executive depart-

A sound and becoming rule regarding utterances by public officials was laid down in an executive order issued on the outbreak of the war between Russia and Japan in 1904, when Theodore Roosevelt was President and John Hay Secretary of State. In this order, which was addressed to "all officials of the Government, civil military and naval," it was declared that, while it was always "unfortunate . speech or conduct to excite anger and resentment toward our nation in friendly foreign lands," it was pointed out, "in a Government employe, whose official potion makes him in some sense a representative of the people, the mischief of such ac-tions is greatly increased."

The order concludes with these golden words: "A strong and self-confident naould be peculiarly careful not only of the lights but of the susceptibilities of its

It is an enormous undertaking that re quires the force of some great moral upheaval to make it effective. Without a political leader of nationwide influence no practical result would be So far as now appears, any new party would have to be radical. Because the Democratic party has had the solid South without much regard to ssues it has usually tried to appeal to the radicals in the North. If it were to lose this strength it could not win. If there were no choice at the next presidential election, the decision would go to the House of Representatives, where, in 1932, the Republicans will control a majority of the states and so would' elect a Republican President. A third party apparently would insure a Republican victory. For that reason any plan to start a new party will not seem practical. in addition to this, our people are not third party minded. Other tracks are having their difficulties under the pari-mutuel system. Saturday the Kentucky Racing Commission, which previously had allowed tracks to take out 6 1/2 per cent of the mu-tuel pool with no "breakage," increased this total to 8 per cent. This would give the club about $4000 more daily income, based on an average daily mutuel handle of $281,000. Fairmount's much more difficult case can readily be understood when it is known that the average daily mutuel pool last year amounted to about $125,000. This meant about $8000 a day for the track or just a trifle more than the sum paid out for stakes and purses each day.

Fairmount's rate of taxation under the Illinois law is the same as the $3,000,000 Arlington track is taxed-$2500 daily-although Arlington handled more than $400,000 each afternoon in its mutuels, on the average,

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.-After stormy debate, the Association of Football Coaches of America, in annuel meeting today, in effect rejected proposals for sweeping reforms urged before the body by Hugo Bezdek of Penn State.

Warning his audience that the oaches must take the initiative in changing college gridiron methods or face the probability of having 'reformers forced upon them,' Bezdek, as chairman of the committee on "stabilization," recommended a series of changes.

Chief among his suggestions were: Centralization of all college athletics under a department of physical education, adoption of athletics budgets, abolishment of spring football practice and no fall workouts until Sept. 15, establishment of football coaches as bonafide members of college faculty.

Bezdek's report was tabled by an approximate 4 to 1 vote after some heated debate, in the course of which Chick Meehan, head coach at New York University, characterized the suggestions as "silly and uncalled for." W. W. Roper, retired Princeton coach, led a subsequent attempt to the Bezdek rather than have it "die on the table," but the motion to refer it to the trustees for further action failed to muster the necessary twothirds vote.

Two Changes Favored. Although urging a general "stat-us quo" on college football rules as they now are codified, Lou Little of Columbia, chairman of the Rules Committee of the association, reported that two changes were favored by a majority of the coaches who responded to a nation-wide questionnaire.

These proposed alterations are: 1. When a kick is blocked, allow the defensive team the right to run with the ball if recovered. Under the present rule, the ball is dead fensive side, but can be advanced

2. Elimination of arbitrary award when defensive side violates offside or other rules, with penalty to be administered as at other times and play then resumed. Same procedure to apply if offensive side is charged with violation. The vote of the coaches in favor of a new blocked kick rule was 162 to 57, and on the point after touchdown change, 208 to Rockne on Rule Changes. Chairman Little reported that coaches otherwise favored the code as it stood. He took the following quotation from Knute Rockne's reply as a summary of the committee's report:

"We ought to declare a moratorium for several years on the rules to see how they work out." The balloting in favor of retaining various features of the rules showed 182 to 89 in favor An Expensive Rule. of retaining the try for point after touchdown, which is under attack by a number of leading coaches. The present fumble rule was endorsed by a vote of 218 to 71, the "screen pass" regulations by 164 to 88, and the new shift rule requiring a full second stop, 213 to The coaches were prepared to debate the rules this afternoon before voting on the report of Lit-Dan McGugin, Vanderbilt's head coach, was named to succeed Glenn S. (Pop) Warner of Stanford, as member of the advisory committee of coaches serving with the na-

EDMOND KOELN,

Mr. Business Man:

-Are You Taking Full Advantage of Present Price Levels?

HE way to profits, as all the world knows, is to buy when prices are low, and sell when they are high. -But, what IS "low"?

"Low" is always relative. You have to compare with something. If the yardstick be the figures of 1929, or 1928, or even a five-year average, today's prices are most certainly low. After commodity prices have steadily declined for a year and a half; after average inventories have been worked down to a minimum; after normal buying habits have been repressed for many months; and after production has reached a point which barely covers current consumption: THEN--You have a choice of two conclusions. Either the whole world of business is coming to an end; OR ELSE, history is about to repeat itself, and business is close to the turn, with today's prices marking the most favorable buying zone in years.

Logic, reason, common-sense and the experience of every past depression period all point to this

So it was in the dark days of March, 1921; again, among the war-clouds of November, 1914; in March 1908—when everything looked black; in November, 1896; in June, 1894; and in February, 1885. All these were the bottoms of severe business depressions. Prices low; business bad; everything unfavorable. Yet unseen changes were taking place. Business revivals steadily followed.

Today the indices of business activity are down to levels from which, in the past, recoveries invariably began within a month or two. The behavior of commodity prices, money rates, bond prices, and other factors all suggest that we are now at or near the bottom, with an upturn imminent.

No man can say—till after the event—that this or that figure is absolute "bottom." No man can hope to catch it except by accident. But every thinking business man can see for himself when prices are LOW-and profit by them.

Are you—as a business man who expects to be still doing business two years from now, and ten, and twenty-making the most of the present low-price buying zones? Are you—conscious of America's recuperative powers, as every clear-visioned man must be-building for the future?

Take this thought of building in a literal sense. Do you realize that building costs are down about 20%? Here are some definite figures, gathered from authoritative St. Louis wholesale sources:

CEMENT—DOWN MORE THAN 14% FROM 1928 DOWN 47% GRAVEL DOWN 39% DOWN 15% TO 20% STRUCTURAL STEEL L.UMBER DOWN 25% GLASS DOWN 15% BUILDERS' HARDWARE DOWN 30% PLUMBING DOWN 15% COMMON BRICK DOWN 131/2% FACE BRICK DOWN 15%

Under these conditions is not now the time to utilize present bargain levels for the physical improvement of factories, stores and warehouses, as well as your home, and for the addition of new and better facilities? Many leaders of American business are acting on that conviction.

Is not now the time to somewhat increase merchandise inventories, not merely to profit by current levels, but to make sure that potential business is not being lost because of too depleted stocks? Are you aware that many would-be buyers are commenting on the short lines and lack of varieties which the stores are showing? Do you realize that many merchants find that sales, while less today in dollars and cents, are in quantity equal to or greater than the average?

The nation's buying power is not dead. It sleeps. But it stirs while it sleeps. Presently it will awake. Will you be ready to fill its needs?

When buying, consider St. Louis sources, in order to stimulate employment in the St. Louis district!

To Ethyl users To this newest gasoline we have added the potent Ethyl fluid to form a new and better Mobilgas Ethyl, a premium fuel that is worth a premium.

starts quicker

Save your battery.

Stop flooding

your carburetor.

Avoid thinning your oil.

IOU don't have to go to Dixie for "warm weather" starting. Just fill your tank with Mobilgas. It's ready for the old-fashioned winter ahead.

Let the thermometer hit bottom. This modernized gasoline will start your car and start it quicker. It has behind it the same skill, experience and quality that make Mobiloil Arctic the world's most trusted oil in below-zero temperatures.

Mobilgas for winter is now in all our pumps. Use it to save the battery-draining grind of your starter. Use it to shorten those long pulls on the choke that flood your carburetor and thin your oil to the danger point. Use it to save on price, for Mobilgas costs no more than regular gasoline.

Switch to Mobilgas for one cold night and let your car decide.

MIXED CLOSE FOLLOWS 3 RALLIES IN STOCK LIST

Market Unable to Find a Trend Between Intermittent Waves of Short Covering and Tax and Bear Selling - Call Money Spurts as Loans Are Called.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The stock market was unable to find a trend between intermittent waves of short covering, and tax and bear selling in today's session.

The list responded to three separate buying waves, the last coming in the final few minutes, and lifting several prominent industrials above last week's final prices, but failing to move the heavy rails appreciably. Gains of a point or two were numerous for a time in the morning, and at mid afternoon, The close was highly irregular, with gains and losses mostly nar-Transactions aggregated 2,-800.000 shares.

A runup in call money to 4 per cent, and heaviness of the grain markets were adverse influence. The loan calling was a normal year-end development, however, and failed to influence rates for time loans. U. S. Steel, American Can, American Tobacco B, Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel and American Telephone closed about Shares up about a point included North American, Case, American Waterworks, Westing house and Woolworth. Auburn was up 3, and General Railway Signal 4. Rails down a point or two included New York Central, Frisco. Lackawanna, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio. Consolidated Gas also lost about a point.

Steel Merger Injunction,

Important corporate news in-cluded the granting of an injunction to Cyrus Eaton and his asso-ciates halting the merger of Youngstown Sheel and Tube with Bethlehem Steel, and the final drafting of a proposal to unify the New York Traction companies.

Both developments appeared to have been largely discounted by the stock market. Republic and Inland Steels, which are regarded as Eaton companies, were firm for a time, but Bethlehem and Youngstown were little changed. In the transactions, the Brooklyn Manhattan issues showed strength for a time. In the steel situation, Wall street is primarily interested in whether the pro-merger interests will appeal.

Call money showed the customary year-end firmness, renewing at 2½ per cent, and moving up to 4, the highest since May, as loans were called rather heavily. Last year at this time, however, the rate was 6 per cent, and two years ago it touched 12 per cent. Other monetary accommodations were virtually stationary. Loan calling was argely to meet year-end interest and dividend payments.

per was quoted at 10 1/2 c a pound, up 1/4, for domestic shipment. Bar silver, however, eased close to its recently recorded low for all time.

"Yes. Fine. What did you do?" "Went to the Alpine with a bunch of the girls and saw a picture-Lois Moran. The girls say I look like her."

"According to you and your friends you resemble all the stars on the screen, from Mary Pickford to Lya de Putti," laughed her sis-

The blonder type in the family re embled their dead father, while Betty and Virginia were like their mother.

The two greeted their sister who perched herself on one of the beds, and smiled dreamily at them both. "Helen—you do look pretty when you wake up." she said earnestly.

"I wish you'd let me draw you-that way-some Sunday morning!" "Don't you ever think of any-thing but your old drawing?" asked Helen, who was Gladys' junior by two years. Helen went to the Bay Ridge High School from which Gladys had just graduated.

"Girls!"

The three jumped at the sound of their mother's patient voice from below stairs, and Helen and Betty began scrambling for sketchy clothes, kimonos, hair brushes and hot water. Helen paused long enough to say to Gladys:

"I do wish you'd bob your hair!" LADYS smiled absently. Helen said it to her every day. The three of them went down the stairs and into a small sunny dining room, meagerly furnished, where their mother waited behind a coffee pot. They kissed her and sat down, and everyone talked at once, while Mrs. Warren beamed impartially upon all three.

Mrs. Warren was a plump, less pretty edition of Betty, with very little gray in her black hair and an unlined, pleasant face. She had come from Jersey, transplanted to Brooklyn at the time of her mar-riage. Entirely, sweet and placid, an excellent housekeeper and a devoted mother, she was the most impractical soul that could be imagined. She smiled at her children now and announced gaily:

"I've a surprise! Gladys paused in the midst of drinking her coffee and looked at Betty. Helen whistled. Betty said nothing, but her face was eloquent of a sort of humorous despair.

"It hasn't come yet," Mrs. Warren went on, happily, 'but it will be here tomorrow. A Superba vacuum cleaner." "But, mother-" began Betty.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE.

AVINA wakened late, aware that she was not rested because her sleep had been disturbed by dreams and nightmares of which only one remained a reality.

She remembered having heard some one scream-a curious terrifying scream which seemed more terrible to her now when she thought of it in cold blood than it had seemed at the time. She remembered having risen to see that Alida was all right and she remembered having seen a light on the third floor of the house on the opposite side of St. Bart's churchyard.

If you want to have a finger in the pie recipe of the day... just try this one!

It's new! It's different!, this pineapple pie recipe - and it's of the day! In fact, it's so advanced you'll want to use it all through the new year. For not only does it tell you how to make as delicious a meapple pie as you've ever put in your mouth, it also tells you just which grade of pineapple is best suited for making it.

Any woman can tell at a glance that for this pie, the appearance of the pineapple is of prime importance. And that's just why the recipe calls for DOLE 1 Sliced Pineapple. For DOLE 1 Slices are lovely to look at. They're so evenly cut-every one of them. And they're uniform in color. (Just examine the slices as you take them out of the can.) So when you make this pineapple pie, or any pineapple dish that calls for lovely golden slices—the pick of the pack of Hawaiian Pineapple-be sure to ask your grocer for DOLE 1 Sliced Pineapple.

Nature gives grades to pineapple—and DOLE, in turn, clearly marks them for you-so you'll know just what grade you're getting when you buy. DOLE grade-marks pineapple by stamping the name DOLE in the top of the can and beneath that name the number 1, or 2, or 3. So whether you're buying Sliced, Crushed or Tidbits, all of which come in various grades, insist on seeing the DOLE grade-mark-and be certain you get just the grade of pineapple that fits your recipe.
